TWENTY STORIES HER LEAP TO DEATH

Young Woman Hurls Herself
From Window 250 Feet
From Ground.

Chicago, November 25.—Possessed with the idea that she was pursued for dishonorable purposes, Miss Maud Van Deussen, thirty-five years old, leaped from the twentieth story of the McCormick Building and was crushed to death on the stone paving of an alley at the street level. She jumped from a fire-escape nearly 250 feet above the ground. Nearly all her bones were broken.

Miss Van Deussen, according to papers found on her person, was a school teacher in Humboldt, Neb. It appeared that she had been seeking a position here, and had been obsessed with the idea that she had been in danger from white slaves. She wrote that she had been driven to appeal for protection from the Chief of Police McWeney, to the Federal Department of Justice and to social settlement workers.

She had prepared for her death by pinning across her bosom a strip of white linen, which had been stained crimson at either end, and on which she had printed in large letters: "Death before dishonor." She had tied around her neck a copy of the New Testament, in which she had marked passages in

BOTH TEAMS CLAIM VICTORY IN BATTLE SET FOR TURKEY DAY

Virginia Hopes for Dry Field,
Banking on Speedy Backs to Win.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., November 25.—Virginia's football game was set through a long signal drill this afternoon. The bracing weather served to put new life into the men, and there was a snap about the practice that was very pleasing to the coaches.

Coaches and players are hoping for a dry field Thursday. With weather conditions as good as prevailed in the Georgetown game, Virginia should be able to unhook some new plays which have been rehearsed for the past ten days and thereby increase her total points against North Carolina.

The fact that every man with the exception of Harris came out of the Georgetown game unharmed speaks well for the fine condition of the team. Joe Wood is suffering from a slight injury, but will be in fine shape when the starting whistle blows on Thanksgiving Day. Maiden is also suffering slightly from the injury sustained in the game with Vanderbilt, but is almost certain to start against Carolina. Captain Todd has been kept out of the last few scrimmages for fear of injury, but is in perfect condition for Thursday's game.

The remainder of the men are in fine shape for the fray and will give the Tarheels the battle of their lives. Virginia's line, which has proved impregnable to the attacks of Vanderbilt and Georgetown, is expected to easily crush back the Carolina offense, while Finlay, Landes, Gillette and Loretz should smash any attempts at circling the ends. As nearly all the business houses in Charlottesville shut down Thursday, a big crowd will undoubtedly take in the excursion.

U. D. C. MAY TAKE HOME FOR WOMEN

Miss Rutherford, Member of Committee, Greatly Pleased With Institution.

Enthusiastic praise for the management and condition of the Home for Needy Confederate Women in Richmond was spoken last night by Miss Mildred Lewis Rutherford, of Athens, Ga., a member of the committee appointed at the convention of United Daughters of the Confederacy in Washington to consider the advisability of the national organization taking over the control of the institution. Miss Rutherford yesterday made a thorough inspection of the home, at 2 East Grace Street.

"Please say for me that I found the conduct and affairs of the home in excellent shape, excellent," she said to a reporter for The Times-Dispatch, who was at the Jefferson Hotel. "The management has been all that could be asked, everything possible has been done for the comfort of the Confederate women received there, and I think that Mrs. A. J. Montague and her associates are to be highly congratulated."

When asked for her opinion concerning the advisability of the National United Daughters of the Confederacy taking over the control and management of the home, Miss Rutherford took pains to make plain that she was not speaking for the committee as a whole, but merely for herself. "I shall certainly recommend to the committee that we endorse the plan to take over the Home for Needy Confederate Women," she said. "Of course, I can only offer this recommendation, and the committee as a whole can only carry an endorsement of the plan to the next national convention of the U. D. C. I have no idea what action the committee will take, or how the convention will receive the committee's recommendation. The home is in a splendid state to be taken over at once by the national organization, and could be carried easily."

In view of the fact that Miss Rutherford was commissioned by the committee to make the inspection of the home, it is not improbable that the committee will follow out her recommendation, reporting favorably to the next convention on the plan to assume control of the institution. It is at present under the management and operation of an association, of which Mrs. Andrew Jackson Montague is the president. It is supported purely by voluntary contributions, most of which come from the city of Richmond. At the U. D. C. Convention held last week in Washington, Mrs. Montague gave a report of the work, and in the name of the association, offered to hand over the home and the management thereof to the national organization.

FATE OF ABBOTT RESTS WITH JURY

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Danville, Va., November 25.—The case of J. C. Abbott, charged with the murder of J. M. Coleman at New Design on October 12, and which has been in progress since Thursday last at the Circuit Court at Chatham, was given to the jury at 6 o'clock this evening. The jury was taken in charge by the sheriff and was locked up for the night at the hotel.

FIRE LOSS WILL REACH $50,000

Ashville, N. C., November 25.—Fire of unknown origin started at midnight and destroyed nearly 100 of the business district of Black Mountain, a town with a population of 1,000 near here. Only one store building of consequence was left standing. The loss is estimated at more than $50,000. Four stores, two livery stables, a freight depot, a lumber company's warehouse and stock of lumber and several residences were destroyed. Five families were sent from Ashville to the homes of the victims.

Carolina Predicts Surprises for Orange and Blue in Annual Clash.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Chapel Hill, N. C., November 25.—Regular football practice at the University of North Carolina for the season of 1912 is on its last lap, the concluding rough and tumble scrimmage for the Carolina-Virginia game coming this afternoon between the first and second teams. On to-morrow they will skirt across the field many times in signal practice and light manoeuvres in manipulating the oval in a variety of new plays that will be tested on the "hill" previous to the momentous struggle. After that Carolina will rest its case.

Eagerly and patiently awaiting the verdict that will be disclosed in Richmond Thursday, with four distinct groups of players in action on as many varieties of play, succeeded by an hour's fierce scrimmage, the squad surpassed anything heretofore recorded for the amount of work it turned out this afternoon. Stevens, Carolina's playmaker, is worked from every possible angle of the field on long range kicks. Foust, Tayloe and Applewhite handled the forward pass for thirty minutes or more. Simultaneously little Abernathy and Johnston engaged extensively in drop kicking.

To-day's practice was converted into the theory of the survival of the fittest, and those who could not measure up to the standard set by the coaches were relegated to the scrubs, to be substituted by promising second-team players. Little, of the scrubs, was worked out at left guard during the afternoon and seems to be a real find, aggressive and a stubborn worker, he gives promise of having gain opportunity to display his fighting spirit on Thursday. Smith, quarterback on the scrubs, was worked as full back and may be sent in at any moment in course of the Thanksgiving battle.

Lining up twelve scrubs against the regular varsity this afternoon, the fight was on in earnest, and for a hour the battle was waged without a single let-up. Giving the scrubs the kick-off, the varsity had rushed the ball to the twenty-yard line in five minutes of play and stood ready to plant the oval squarely between the goal posts, but Stevens' kick went wild, an exception to the rule, and the scrubs gained possession of the ball, rushing it across the field for thirty yards and there tussled with the regular eleven for quite a bit. By the successful manipulation of the forward pass, the second team carried the ball over for a touchdown.

With the stubborn determination to tighten up the varsity on defense, the coaches carried the ball back to the ten-yard line and let the scrubs continually plunge at the apparently weak line of the regular eleven. For forty minutes this stunt was repeated, with the aim of strengthening the defense. Tayloe, full back, was the only member of the squad added to the injured list, his injuries not being serious.

BLUES BANKING ON SURE VICTORY

Condition of Team, With Experience Gained, Lends Hope in Saturday's Game.

With not a single injured man on the team, and every one in good physical condition, the Richmond Blues are eagerly awaiting their game with their old rivals, the Norfolk Blues, Saturday afternoon at Broad Street Park at 2:30 o'clock.

The Richmond Blues have a stronger and more experienced team than last year, and have observed strict training rules, so the sensible soldiers will be up against an entirely different proposition, and they will have to fight hard for everything they make. The local team is not conceding any superiority whatever to them, and they expect to wipe out the sting of last year's defeat.

On Eve of Trial, Fogel Makes Blanket Denial

Philadelphia, November 25.—Before leaving for New York late today, where he will attend the meeting of the National League tomorrow, Mr. Fogel, who is charged with the murder of President Lincoln, made a blanket denial of the charges against him. He declared that if it is true, as he is led to believe, that several New York newspapers have been circulating the story that he was going to the Lincoln trial, he will prefer a charge of perjury against them to court.

A number of newspaper men and other persons who witnessed the game between the New York and Philadelphia teams, which was played on Thursday last, declared that the game was a fair one, and that the players were in good condition.

FRANCHISE WHAT LYNCHBURG ASKS

Grim to Be on Hand at League Meeting To-day in Portsmouth.

Magnates of the Virginia League will assemble in Portsmouth to-day for the annual meeting of the organization; elect a president, vice-president and recording secretary, and attempt to determine upon a circuit for 1913. Everything will sail smoothly until the circuit arrives. President Boatright will succeed himself, Zack Woodall will retain his job and anybody who wants it can be vice-president. Jack Grim, according to reports from Lynchburg, is going to furnish the fireworks. Jack is going to ask for a franchise for Lynchburg, and that's where the fun will start. With the aid of Jack Lynchburg has come to the opinion that that city was illegally thrown out of the league last season. Now it wants to get legally back, and Jack is willing to be at the helm of the club. If so, the league would be a victory for the Blues by a score of 5 to 2.
